

Healing Through Your Akashic Records with Bill Sanda

Is Your Past Holding You Back?

Are you facing one challenge after another in your life? Perhaps new situations, perhaps circumstances that you seem to set up again and again...or maybe even issues that you saw your parents or grandparents facing?

What if you could access the lessons of the past – not just the past of a day, a year, or a decade ago, but the distant past of cellular memories, previous lives, or past generations? Imagine how having this intelligence could change your life – give clues to answer your dilemmas – resolve recurring issues – heal long-standing challenges in your relationships – and empower future growth!

You can access that healing energy, you know – through the Akashic Records.

What are the Akashic Records?

The Sanskrit word “Akasha” means primary substance or that out of which all things are formed. Quantum science teaches us that we are energy beings, and that energy, while it can change forms, is never destroyed.

In the dynamic, flowing energy field that contains all life on this planet, every thought, word and action that occurs in your life and those around you are recorded....and those records, the Akashic Records, are available to assist you clear your present challenges.

Through your own Akashic Records, the experiences of your past lives can help you to gain a new perspective, achieve healing in your present consciousness, and connect with your eternal, true, and Divine Self. An Akashic Clearing is a powerful tool to help you develop a more conscious relationship with your own soul and its many incarnations. True empowerment is the bringing forth of your Divine Self into this world.

How can an Akashic Clearing help to bring healing?

All of us have energetic layers surrounding our True/Divine Self. They are built up of fears, doubts, and lessons that we chose to experience in this life or past lives so that we could learn from them but did not. Over time, we hold onto the energy of these experiences and think that they are a part of us, rather than something separate that can be released.

These energetic layers block our connection to our True and Divine Self and create a false and limited sense of self and restrict guidance we receive from our Inner Being. An Akashic Record clearing can assist you in healing those energetic layers so you can more deeply connect with your True Self. We do not create the healing; rather, we collaborate with you to create an energetic space that allows healing to occur.

“No matter how far you dig back into your past, you will eventually have to come back to the present moment because that is the only place that change can happen.”

Meet Akashic Guide Bill Sanda

A spiritual seeker for more than four decades, Bill has studied with some of the most respected spiritual masters of our time. His gift for clearly bringing the energies from the Akashic Records was revealed to him years ago and he offers this service to people as his gift back to the world. Bill's gift of compassionate clarity has been a positive force for the people who seek his gift. Bill works with adults, youth, and children as well as families and businesses.

Bill says, “I have been blessed to discover my passion and path in life. I have been guided to work with others using this little known, but powerful process for healing. An Akashic Clearing can heal on many levels: emotional, physical, mental, and spiritual. I am honored to be granted the ability to share this kind of power with others.”

How to Prepare for and Receive a Clearing

The Akashic Record Clearing session itself takes approximately an hour. The sessions are paced to provide plenty of time to share all pertinent clearing/healing given to you from the Records, and to answer your questions.

To get the utmost value out of the clearing, prepare yourself by setting an intention for the journey. Prepare specific questions that reflect your concerns about issues in your life. Explore finding the questions in your health, relationships, family interactions, business, or career. Avoid asking for predictions; instead, look for questions that start with how what, or why. At the start of the session, please be prepared to provide your current full legal name, including your middle name. The Records are accessed through the energy of your name as presently found on your driver's license or other legal identification.

The Clearing will start with a short meditation to allow you to become centered and grounded. Bill will say a specific prayer, part of which is spoken and part of which is in silence. The Clearing will begin at this point.

Group Clearings

Akashic Clearings are not limited to individuals; they can be an effective tool in resolving family issues or boosting the performance of a workplace team. Bill can work with a group including families and workplace teams through distance healing. All Bill needs are the names of the individuals who are to be included, the current last name(s) of the family or the company name and location of the workforce team, and the issues involved. From there he can work with family or team as a whole entity, probing into the interpersonal or performance issues involved and provide the healing necessary to clear the problems. Please see the testimonial from Debra S and her family to see what is possible with a family healing.

Testimonials:

"It was unbelievably incredible! The most amazing thing I've ever witnessed and experienced. It is a game-changer for me. "

"...during the process I had epiphanies and also received confirmation about my truths. I could "feel" the caring, the nurturing, and the absolute bliss. You do God's work on Earth! At one moment, I even saw myself talking to God "...you mean you're in here? inside my heart?" IT WAS BEAUTIFUL!..." Elena

"A SHIFT has occurred. I no longer feel prisoner, hostage, to bombarding obsessive thoughts from the past. This healing has enabled me to move forward with a sense of FREEDOM. I feel relieved and really anticipating wonderful experiences and new opportunities within my growth." MaryElla

"Bill is exceptionally gifted...It seemed that everyone erased years...looking so much younger and so much more relaxed and at peace than before the session. The shift happening for each person was actually physically visible. His intuition and his channeling are finely tuned and extremely accurate. The energy in the room was both intense and peacefully supportive of each of us. I feel blessed to have shared this phenomenal experience with Bill. The personal healing I received was deep and pure. The effects are long term and have impacted my life on many levels in many arenas. Bill offers an important service and is skilled in handling extremely personal situations in a group setting with great discretion." Cindy W.

"I was surprised when Bill Sanda's Akashic Records Clearing was not about content but Bill diving straight into the heart of the issue healing what needed to be healed from times long ago. At first, I felt very good after the Clearing, then by mid-week, I wondered if anything really had happened. By the next weekend, I understood that doors that I had never imagined possible were being opened and a profound gift was being offered. Thank you, Bill!" Carol M.

"I've never experienced anything like it. I can tell you it has been life-changing. I feel like I can really engage the world now, not just watch it from the sidelines. The old fear and the behaviors that stemmed from fear, which kept me from moving forward in my life, have been transformed. Now I can be in this world and know that I matter and that what I do matters. No matter how big or small, my part in this life counts... I actually have the capacity to accept love, not just give it. I'm understanding my worth and living free of fear which held me back for so long. I feel like I'm experiencing my true self for the first time and it feels great!" Debra

"What can I say about Bill Sanda.....well I'd say that I can't say enough. Bill came into my life at a very pivotal time. My life and that of my children had abruptly been turned upside down and it looked like we just weren't going to be able to pull out of the trauma. I have two teenage children, one was imploding and the other was exploding, and I was just sinking into an abyss. Bill's work with my family unit showed immediate results. We all began showing signs of coming out of it, coming up to the Light. Very clearly after each session, there were very obvious signs of Bill's amazing work....Several months have gone by and I can truly say that we are all different people than we were when we began our work with Bill. Now we all have bright futures and the capacity to engage in our lives instead of just existing and letting life happen around us. So what can I say about Bill Sanda.....completely selfless; his work....amazing and life-changing." Debra S
